Dear Karen

What a difference a change of diet and Bio-Kult probiotic capsules have made!
When I explained how my 14½ year old cross-breed, Sophy, normally so hardy in all respects, had become increasingly intolerant of any combination of food, even the traditional "gentle" diet of chicken and rice, I was seriously concerned about her future. She was becoming so thin, and it was starting to look as if she had not long to go before we would have to see the vet for the last time.

You spotted the cereal and rice (in particular) intolerance and recommended Bio-Kult in combination with a different diet. The slow but steady improvement over the last 3 months has been wonderful to see - The aging process is inevitable, but she is now a much happier dog overall and has been given a new lease of life.
