We have been very pleased with the effect using Ruggle-it has had on our ponies.

We have two with [REDACTED] [equine summer itching, mane & tail rubbing] and this year we have managed to not put their coats on.

It has taken a lot of effort on our part to make sure they have been continually sprayed but it has been so worth while to see them in the field without their coats and very rewarding when friends also have commented on how well they look. We will definitely be prepared for next year and start off before the midges put in an appearance.

Many thanks fro your help and I have been singing your praises.
