Hi Karen

Yes I am the right Sarah! I have been using Ruggle-it for my pony who has terrible open [REDACTED] [areas] on her legs from fly irritation.

Not only have the flies laid off (completely) but the [REDACTED] [open areas] have [REDACTED] [repaired] beautifully. Prior to ruggle-it I was pulling my hair out and found nothing that worked! She was miserable and so painful ☹

I posted on Facebook to tell other horsey friends that it was amazing which is where the lady you mentioned must have seen it.

I have been away on a camping holiday. Having not seen her for 3 days, her legs still look amazing and the oil was only applied once in those 3 days!!

Many thanks and thank you for messaging, it's great to know my recommendation got to you!

Best wishes,

Sarah

Many thanks to Sarah from Exeter for taking the time to write & "Share on Facebook" her feedback.
